 Judge: Honorable Jacqueline S. Corley

Pursuant to Civil Local Rules 7-11 and 79-5(c), Defendants Microsoft Corporation (“Microsoft”) and Activision Blizzard, Inc. (“Activision”) (collectively, “Defendants”) do respectfully move this Court for an order sealing the portions of Defendants’ Memorandum of Law in Opposition to Motion for Preliminary Injunction (“Opposition”), the Declaration of Beth Wilkinson in Support of Defendants’ Opposition, and certain supporting exhibits to the Opposition.

The proposed sealing in the chart below reflects Defendants’ good-faith efforts to narrowly seek sealing of only that information which is competitively sensitive and contained in internal documents, the public disclosure of which would cause injury to Defendants that cannot be avoided through any more restrictive alternative means.

ARGUMENT

I. Sealing the Opposition and Supporting Documents Is Warranted Under Ninth Circuit Precedent as They Contain Defendants’ Confidential Business Information

In the Ninth Circuit, “[p]arties seeking to seal judicial records relating to motions that are ‘more than tangentially related to the underlying cause of action,’ bear the burden of overcoming the presumption with ‘compelling reasons supported by specific factual findings that outweigh the general history of access and the public policies favoring disclosure.’” Lenovo (United States) Inc. v. IPCom GmbH & Co., KG, 2022 WL 2313948, at *1 (N.D. Cal. Jun. 28, 2022); see also Kamakana v. City & County of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1179 (9th Cir. 2006) (“[T]he court must ‘conscientiously [] balance the competing interests’ of the public and the party who seeks to keep certain judicial records secret.”). Courts in this Circuit regularly find that sealing is warranted where the records or information that are sought to be sealed could be used “as sources of business information that might harm a litigant’s competitive standing.” Nixon v. Warner Commc’ns, Inc., 435 U.S. 589, 598 (1978); see also In re Elec. Arts, Inc., 298 F. App’x 568, 569 (9th Cir. 2008) (same); Velasco v. Chrysler Grp. LLC, No. CV 13-08080 DDP (VBK), 2017 WL 445241, at *2 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 30, 2017) (stating that “district courts in this Circuit have sealed records containing ‘information about proprietary business operations, a company’s business mode or agreements with clients,’ [and] ‘internal policies and strategies’”) (internal citations omitted).

“The Ninth Circuit has explained that ‘in general, compelling reasons sufficient to outweigh the public’s interest in disclosure and justify sealing court records exist when such court files might have become a vehicle for improper purposes, such as the use of records to . . . release trade secrets.’” Velasco, 2017 WL 445241, at *2 (quoting Elec. Arts, 298 F. App’x at 569); see also Elec. Arts, 298 F. App’x at 569 (“A ‘trade secret may consist of any formula, pattern, device or compilation of information which is used in one’s business, and which gives him an opportunity to obtain an advantage over competitors

1 who do not know or use it.”) (citation omitted). A court has “broad latitude” to grant protective orders
 2 to prevent disclosure of “many types of information, including, but not limited to, trade secrets or other 3 confidential research, development, or commercial information.” Phillips ex rel. Estates of Byrd v. Gen.
 4 Motors Corp., 307 F.3d 1206, 1211 (9th Cir. 2002).

5 In determining whether a document should be filed under seal, courts consider, among other 6 things, the measures taken to guard the information’s secrecy and the value of the information to the 7 business or its competitors. E.g., Phillips ex rel. Estates of Byrd v. Gen. Motors Corp., 307 F.3d 1206, 8 1212 (9th Cir. 2002). Here, Defendants seek to seal narrowly tailored excerpts of the Opposition, which 9 reference and reflect, among other things, confidential, proprietary information relating to Defendants’ 10 internal decision-making processes, investment decisions, strategic evaluation of forward-looking 11 opportunities, market share analyses, assessment of the competitive landscape, business partnerships,
 12 terms of existing confidential agreements, revenue figures and projections, and internal presentations 13 discussing business strategy. The disclosure of this information could be used to injure Defendants if 14 made publicly available.

15 II. Sealing the Opposition and Supporting Materials Is Necessary to Protect Defendants’ 16 Confidential and Proprietary Business Information

17 Defendants seek to maintain under seal portions of the Opposition and supporting materials, as 18 they contain Defendants’ non-public and highly sensitive information from documents obtained during 19 the course of the FTC’s investigation and during litigation discovery. Examples of such confidential
 20 information include, but are not limited to, Defendants’ internal decision-making processes, investment 21 decisions, strategic evaluation of forward-looking opportunities, market share analyses, assessment of 22 the competitive landscape, business partnerships, terms of existing confidential agreements, revenue
 23 figures and projections, and internal presentations discussing business strategy. Disclosure of this 24 information would provide Defendants’ competitors with private data about Defendants’ performance
 25 and business strategy, which could harm Defendants’ competitive standing. See Cont’l Auto. Sys. v.
 26 Avanci, LLC, No. 19-cv-02520-LHK, 2019 WL 6612012, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 5, 2019). Thus, the 27 unsealing of this highly confidential and sensitive information would cause injury to Defendants that 28 cannot be avoided through less restrictive alternatives.

Finally, Defendants provided the FTC with confidential business information cited in the Opposition and supporting materials pursuant to the statutory and regulatory guarantees of confidentiality contained in the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act or the FTC Act. See 15 U.S.C. §§ 18a(h), 46(f), 57b-2(b), 57b-2(c); 6 C.F.R. § 4.10(d)-(g). In similar cases, the FTC has acknowledged the need to maintain the confidentiality of a party's confidential business information that has been provided to the FTC via a regulatory request. See, e.g., FTC v. Lockheed Martin Corp., 2022 WL 1446650, at *2 (D.D.C. Jan. 25, 2022) ("According to the FTC, sealing the complaint is appropriate . . . because the filing includes confidential information submitted . . . pursuant to 'statutory and regulatory guarantees of confidentiality.' . . . The requested sealing covers only confidential information and is, according to the FTC, required by regulation.").

III. Conclusion

As stated above, compelling reasons justify Defendants' request for sealing Defendants' confidential business information contained in the Opposition and supporting materials. Defendants respectfully request that this Court grant its Motion to Seal. In compliance with Civil Local Rule 79-5(d), redacted and unredacted versions of the Opposition and supporting materials accompany this Administrative Motion. In accordance with Civil Local Rule 7-11, Defendants have also filed a Proposed Order herewith.
